CENTURY WHISKEY

Persons in delicate health, often find it difficult to obtain a Pure Stimulant when prescribed by their Physicians, and it is for Druggists and other persons who trade that we

is particularly designed. It is differently prepared from ANY WHISKEY IN MARKET, and is driving many old brands out of market, because the "principle upon which it is made is superior.

The utmost universal testimony of those who have used the

CENTURY WHISKIES

is, that there is an entire absence of headaches, and that it does not produce after-effects so often experienced in the use of other brands. This is a direct consequence of the Purity of the Century Whiskies, and the impurity of many other brands.

They are ABSOLUTELY PURE; four prominent chemists certify to this fact, viz:

Prof. STILLMAN, State Chemist of Connecticut.

Prof. C. U. SHEPARD, Jr., State Chemist of South Carolina.

Prof. W. C. TILDEN, Washington, D. C.

Prof. JOHN DABBY, New York.

All of whom agree in pronouncing it "without fault," and "free from any deleterious substance whatever."

For sale by first-class dealers everywhere.

LOCAL MATTER.

E. C. WOODSON, City Editor

Correspondents will please write on one side of the paper.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

N. B. Broughton, Esq., Editor of the Spirit of the Age, has been canvassing Wilmington this week.

A. J. Burton, Esq., has established his law office at Weldon. Success to Andrew.

A portmanteau was lost on Friday night between the Peace Institute and the store of the Messrs. Tucker. See notice.

We learn that the Insane Asylum was somewhat damaged yesterday by the severe wind. The tin was blown from a portion of the roof.

Wilmington is to have a colored lecturer this week on a subject of a literary character. The lecturer is a graduate of Lincoln University, Pa.

The Georgia papers tell us that arrangements are being made to carry passengers from New York to Savannah, without change of cars, to go into effect next season.

In our Local yesterday morning we stated that Mr. "T. R. Purcell" had become associated in an editorial capacity with the State Agricultural Journal.
It should have read "T. R. Purcell."

Mrs. R. Koella announces elsewhere in this morning's issue that she can furnish board with pleasant rooms for gentlemen, at the cottage on Dawson street, nearly opposite the Methodist Church.

Amusing—yesterday, to witness the numberless races that, were occurring almost every minute in quest of hats.
There is no condition in life in which a man receives so little sympathy as when he is in pursuit of his own hat.

We were pleased to see in our office yesterday Messrs. Jno. W. Dunham and William K. Davis, Senators from Wilson and Franklin. Major Dunham has been spending some time with his friends in the western portion of the State.

OUR CHURCHES TO-DAY.—Divine services will be held at the following Churches to-day, (Sunday.) Strangers and others in the city are earnestly and cordially invited to attend. Gentlemanly ushers will be present to conduct visitors to pews which are always free.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF A CITIZEN OF NORTHAMPTON.—The Raleigh News of yesterday gives the following account of the accidental death a few days since of Mr. Joseph Copeland, a worthy citizen of Northampton county. Says the News:

"Mr. Copeland was at work in a field, which he was clearing, and having occasion to break a sick raised it and struck it across a log. It snapped in two, the broken fragment rebounded and the end struck him on the temple, causing a violent concussion, which stunned him for some time. He recovered sufficiently to go to his house and told his wife what had happened, and died in about an hour. The unfortunate man stood deservedly high in the community in which he lived, and many are the expressions of sympathy for his bereaved family."

THE "CONCORD SUN."—The first number of this weekly, published at Concord, N. C., by Charles F. Harris, Esq., is to hand. It presents a neat appearance, and we welcome it to our exchange list. Says the Editor in his salutatory:

"The Sun will adopt for its political course Sound and Liberal Conservative Principles, and while it is not my intention to make the Sun a partisan journal or a 'red hot' paper, still it will endorse and approve 'the Right,' and expose and condemn 'the Wrong,' either in County, State or Government Administration, and freely and fearlessly criticise the public acts and views of statesmen in both parties."

THE TORNADO.—The wind was very strong and damaging to fences and trees in all parts of this county yesterday south of Raleigh, and through the Rhamkatte section, the trees suffered severely and the fences are almost completely blown to pieces. Mr. Simon Hayes lost many of his fine fruit trees, and the same may be said of the place of Mr. Badger.

GOOD SMOKING TOBACCO.—We were made the recipients yesterday of some elegant "Mechanic's Smoking Tobacco" that is being manufactured by the Alamance Tobacco Company, at Company Shops, on the line of the N. C.
Road. Thanks.

"DRY TIMES AHEAD."—Under the above caption, the Local Editor of the News a few days since humorously referred to the fact that a large number of corporations in the State were voting the "dry ticket," or to prohibit the sale of ardent spirits within such corporate limits. In the course of the article the Local said:

"This gigantic march of the temperance movement is truly alarming to the thirsty everywhere, and consternation already breaks in upon the ranks of even the moderate drinkers. Desertion is now the order of the day, and we are half inclined to hand in our petition to Brother Whitaker as soon as he returns home."

Our friend, Brother Whitaker, Editor of the Friend of Temperance, the organ of that order in the State, takes our article as it was meant, and says:

"We copy the above from the Local columns of the DAILY NEWS of this city, for the purpose of stating that Brother Whitaker has returned, and he will take pleasure in recommending Captain Woodson to membership in the Friends of Temperance. The Captain will make a valuable accession to our noble Order, and with an occasional good word from his pen, may do the cause of total abstinence immense service."

"We already have in our Order brothers Wilsons, of the Kinston Gazette, Stamps, of the Tarboro Enquirer, Mitchell, of the Louisburg Courier, Foote, of the Warrenton Gazette, Garrett, (local) of the Fayetteville Eagle, Sandford, of the Pe De Courrier, Knight, of the Wadesboro Herald, Hough, of the Firebird Friend, and perhaps others, equally clever."

"Come in, Brother Woodson; you will be in good company."

The Spirit of the Age, of this city, the organ of the Order of Good Templars in this State, sets it to place the article of the News in a different light. Says that paper:

"We were sorry to see the above article in a late issue of the Raleigh DAILY NEWS. It is faulty in taste, tautly in morals, and reflects no credit, either on the man who wrote it, or the paper in which it appeared. This is not the first time, by several, that the paper has attempted to ridicule the cause of Temperance, and its advocates. We like the News and its Editors, Captain Williams was once our pupil, and we entertain a strong personal regard for him. His qualities of head and heart are such as command the esteem of all who know him. Mr.
Stone, the business manager, we knew years ago in Petersburg, and towards him and the intelligent and witty Local Editors, Messrs. Woodson & Syme, we cherish the most kindly feelings. We have received courtesies from them all, and we wish them well, and because we wish them and their paper well, we give them a gentle hint by asking the following questions:

"Is it the deliberate purpose of the Raleigh News to ridicule the cause of Temperance?

"Do its Editors propose to make it the champion of Intemperance and the organ of the frog sellers?

"Is it in danger of being so regarded by many of our best citizens?"

We thank the Editor of the Spirit of the Age, Dr. Prithard, for the kindly sentiments he expresses towards the Editors of the News, and hope we may ever merit his good opinions. But in the absence of Capt. Woodson, the Local Editor of the News, we feel called upon to reply to the remarks of Dr.
Prithard.

The News is not nor has ever been an advocate of the temperance cause, nor is it an advocate of intemperance. It is what it professes to be, a political and news journal. Its columns, however, have ever been open and free to those who are advocating the cause in which the Spirit of the Age is engaged, yet we have never felt ourselves under any obligations to become the peculiar champion of the Friends of Temperance or Order of Good Templars. Both of them have our best wishes for their success.
But we shall ever deem ourselves at liberty to speak in any manner we may think fit of any subject whatever, so long as we feel that we are not violating any of the acknowledged laws of munality or virtue.

In justice to the Political Editor of the News, to whom reference is made in the above extract, we would state that he is in no respect responsible for any article that may appear in our local columns. He rarely sees any local matter until after it is published.

As we have made no war upon the temperance papers, as some of our State contemporaries have done, but have rather given them aid whenever desired, we think the attack of the Spirit of the Age is both unequalled and unjust.

We copy the following article, without endorsing it, from a late number of the Piedmont Press, only to show how some of our contemporaries have attacked the position of that paper. Says the Press:

"The Spirit of the Age, a temperance paper published at Raleigh, advocates making liquor selling or drinking a cause of non-eligibility to church membership, says an Ex.

"Yes, and we always set such fellows down as fanatics, and regard them as dangerous to the morals of society as rum-sellers and tipplers."

In conclusion, we must be permitted to express our regret, that the Spirit of the Age did not take the same view of our article as did the Friend of Temperance, which was not intended as any sur upon the temperance cause, but written in the usual good-humored style of our Local Editor.

THE SPRING TRADE.—We failed to invite attention yesterday to the advertisements of Messrs. Davis, Drake & Co., of Petersburg, Va. This is one of the largest dry goods houses in the South, and offer as many inducements to the trade as can be found elsewhere.
Messrs. Davis, Drake & Co., are too well known to the North Carolina public to need any commendation at our hands.

OUR CAPITOL AND THE OLDEN TIME

LEGISLATORS.—A Convention of the people of this State met at Hillsboro, on the 21st of July 1788, to take into consideration the Constitution of the United States, and to fix on a place for holding the future meetings of the General Assembly, and place of residence of the Chief Officers of the State. The Convention resolved not to fix on any one particular point, but determined that the Capitol should be erected within ten miles of the place agreed on.
A ballot was taken, and a majority voted "for the plantation whereon Isaac Hunter now resides in the county of Wake," but the General Assembly was authorized to meet elsewhere until convenient buildings could be erected. In 1789 and 1790 the General Assembly met in Fayetteville and in 1791-92 in Newbern. At the latter session he above selection was confirmed, and Frederick Hargett, Willie Jones, Jos. P.
McDowell, Thomas Blount, William Johnston Dawson and James Martin, Esqs., Commissioners, purchased on the 5th day of April, 1792, of Joel Lane, one thousand acres of land, "at Wake Court House," for the use of the public.
The "city" was called RALEIGH in honor of Sir Walter Raleigh, who in 1584 had been the first expedition that landed on the shores of North Carolina, and who in 1587 despatched a number of colonists to Roanoke Island in this State under the charge of John White, who was duly commissioned "Governor of the city of Raleigh," which "city" was laid out on the Northern end of Roanoke Island.

The corner stone of the first Capitol was laid early in 1792, and the Legislature met in Raleigh for the first time on the 11th of December, 1794. Unlike the present Capitol, there was no provision in the first for the public offices.
The offices of the Secretary of State and Comptroller were in a building on the northern boundary of the Capitol Square, immediately in front of the present National Hotel, while the Governor's office was at the left of the Washington Monument as you enter from the south gate, and immediately opposite was the Treasurer's and Adjutant General's offices. The records, being stored in the outer buildings, were not destroyed with the Capitol when it was burned on the 21st of June, 1831.

An amusing incident has been related to us in connection with the burning of the Capitol: William Hill, (father of Dr. Wm. G. Hill) was Secretary of State, and while the Capitol was in flames, being exceedingly solicitous to preserve the invaluable records of his office, he procured vehicles and removed his books and papers to the square on which the Deaf and Dumb Institution now stands, where they were dumped out in great confusion. After the fire was over, he had them carried back to his office (which had not been burned), and began the tedious task of re-arranging them. The late Judge Badger came in and finding Secretary Hill hard at work, remarked that he would not "straighten out those papers for $5,000." By great exertion, however, the Secretary succeeded in re-arranging them, and at the next session of the General Assembly a resolution was introduced proposing to pay Mr. Hill $500 for his extra work.
The resolution was rejected, and a resolution censuring Mr. Hill for "endangering the State's papers," was adopted in its stead!

At this date, when the systematic and careful manner in which Mr. Hill kept his papers is known and appreciated by all who have had occasion to examine records of his office during the session of the General Assembly, it is amusing. It was certainly a most extraordinary and undeserved reflection on one of the most faithful officers who ever served the State.

In those days there were no railroads, and but few members of the General Assembly could reach Raleigh by the old stages, so most of them came on horseback, on the day preceding the meeting of the General Assembly, and some of the main roads leading into the city presented a very much the appearance of a holiday. The people living back from the roads came out to see the fine horses of the Members—and as they passed on the members resembled detachments of cavalry. On their arrival in the city, they found many country people who came in for the purpose of making arrangements for taking care of the horses during the session.

The horses were brought in every day, so that the owners could see how they were being cared for, and Dr. Miller, of Cleveland, informed us at the last session (1872-73) that it was quite exciting to witness the horse-racings on Hillsboro and Newbern streets, between the Legislators on Saturdays.

AN OLD LANDMARK GONE.—Yesterday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, the alarm of fire was given by the bell at the Metropolitan Market House. It was occasioned by the burning of what was known as the old "Sewell Place" on Newbern Avenue. It seems that the building caught from sparks from the chimney, and the roof being like an old tinder box, the building was soon wrapped in flames. The building was occupied by C. W. Lambeth, Esq., and we are glad to know that all the furniture was saved except that of two rooms. We suppose that this house was one of the oldest in the city, as the date of its erection goes back some sixty years, and around it clusters many old memories dear to the heart of many old inhabitants of this place. The old dwelling was once the centre of hospitality and fashion, and its rooms have been adorned by the presence of North Carolina's most distinguished sons.
Would that we had the necessary data to give a sketch of the history of this building. It was one of Raleigh's landmarks, and its destruction destroys one of the links in the chain connecting the present with the past. We learn that the property is owned by Wm.
Beach, Esq., of Philadelphia, who purchased it from Gen. B. Grimes.

ONE HUNDRED AGENTS WANTED.— Prof. P. S. Hicks, of this city, advertises elsewhere this morning that he wants one hundred agents. See his notice.

A HAPPY MAN.—One might tell without knowing it, that the Editor of the Rocky Mount Mail is a newly married man. His editorials, his selections, his local items, his poetical quotations, all gush with happiness—delight, ecstasy!

The roseate hue of bliss tinged every thought and breathes through every line of his last issue. He talks about wives as angels, marriage as the consummation of earthly joys, divine benedic-tions, &c., &c., &c.

But this is the honey-moon, you know, and a few blissful expletives may be pardoned.

Perhaps brother Thorp is like the fox, and wants to get all the editorial joys in the same category with himself.
(Norm.—Woodson is absent in Granville.) Brother Thorp advises all the young men to get married. He wants to congratulate them all—he does not realize of some of the happiness he now feels. Happy man!

Still Another.—Since writing the above, we have seen McSwain, of the Fayetteville Eagle, who is en route to his home in Fayetteville, from a bridal tour to New York, and is stopping at the Yarbrough.

Mc. says he can endorse the advice of the Editor of the Rocky Mount Mail— that he would be glad to see all of his young friends married—for he thinks married life a great improvement on single cussedness.

Mc. looks happy and we doubt not he is sincere—but we "can't see it" now.
(Woodson is in Granville.)

SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE.—We received yesterday the first issue of the Semi-Weekly Kinston Gazette. We are glad to see this evidence of prosperity on the part of its worthy and clever Editor—Mr. Wilson.

If the people of Kinston and Lenoir will sustain the Gazette as they ought, it will do more than any other means to advance the material interests of their town and county.

We like the tone of the Gazette. Its enterprising Editor deserves to be sustained.

MUSICAL AND LITERARY ENTERTAIN-MENT.—Friday evening there was a most charming musical and literary entertainment at the Peace Institute. The audience was large but select, as it was invited. Both in their musical performances and literary recitations, the young ladies acquitted themselves admirably, and the hearers left at the end of the entertainment with the impression that the course at Peace Institute was adapted in every way to fit young ladies to become useful members of society.

THE STATE FAIR.—Says the Asheville Citizen of a recent date:

"It seems that the citizens of Raleigh display a lamentable carelessness towards the interests of the State Fair.
They refuse to subscribe enough to even fit up, in a suitable manner, grounds for the annual exhibition. Charlotte offers inviting inducements, and it would not surprise us if the society holds its future fairs at that point. Let those most liberally disposed receive the benedict."

LOST VOLUME.—The Editor of the Roanoke News says that on Wednesday morning last he placed upon the Railroad train, in charge of a friend, a bundle containing the first volume of that paper, to be conveyed to Mr. Armstrong of this city to be bound. The said bundle was lost and the Editor is anxious to recover it. Any one finding the same will confer a favor upon him by delivering it to Mr. Armstrong.

RETURNED.—Our Managing Editor returned home yesterday, after an absence of some ten days on a tour through several of the more Southern States. He will give in our next a review of many things which he saw and learned during his trip.

GENUINE MARCH WEATHER.—March was upon us yesterday in earnest, and the howling of the winds throughout the day rendered it thoroughly disagreeable to those who were compelled to be upon the streets.

SUNDAY, MARCH 30, 1873.

REPORTED DESTRUCTION OF SAN SALVADOR.

Our dispatches yesterday allude to the reported destruction of the city of San Salvador by an earthquake.

It will be remembered that Ex-Gov. Holden was appointed by the President Minister to the Island of San Salvador, soon after his defeat for Governor by Governor Worth.

We believe a North Carolinian, Mr. Badham, of Alamance, is now Minister at that point.

AN AMERICAN DRIVEN FROM THE QUEEN'S PALACE.

On Friday, an American citizen appeared at the gate of Windsor Castle, and sent a message to Queen Victoria, demanding an audience.

In vain he pleaded for admission—the Guards paid no attention to his requests, and finally took him off under arrest.

His mission, as told by himself, was a dutiful and affectionate one—but the rough and heartless minions who kept ward and watch at the Queen's Palace, treated him with great incivility and harshness! They threatened to incarcerate him in the Mad House, if he did not leave England immediately. He promised, and was released.

The President of the United States will doubtless see to it that the dignity of the Republic and the honor of the American flag are maintained, by demanding of the English Government an apology for this insult and indignity to an American citizen!

The American citizen so outraged in his rights of person, will of course demand damages for false imprisonment—and the damages will doubtless be both exemplary and plenary.

The only offense of which this outraged American citizen is alleged to have committed is, he told the Guards he wished to see the Queen, who, he alleged, was his mother; but this reasonable and filial request was treated with derision, scorn and insult!

According to the Constitution of the United States, this American citizen had a right to claim relationship with the Queen!

Therefore, the Government should demand, by what authority the Guards refused him admission to the Queen's presence? Is the Queen ashamed of her American kinspeople? Now, her Majesty ought to be more considerate towards the feelings of her relations across the water! It is cruel in her to close her Palace doors against American citizens of royal descent!

If the precedent is to be established, that an American citizen cannot make a friendly and domestic visit to the Queen's household without being molested—nay, even insulted, arrested and threatened with confinement in the Mad House, it is high time for the Government of the United States to know it, in order that steps may be taken to protect the dignity and character of the nation and to vindicate the American Constitution!

The Alabama claims for consequential damages sink into utter insignificance and contempt when compared with this violation of the personal liberty of an American citizen, and this studied and unprovoked insult to the American flag.

MORBID CURIOSITY.

It is remarkable that they have not adopted the law for private hanging in Virginia.

At Alexandria, in that State, on Friday last, a colored man by the name of Manley, was hanged for the murder of an aged white man, committed in July last.

The murderer made a confession at the scaffold—attributing his crime to whiskey.

There was an immense concourse of people present—led by morbid curiosity, to witness the hanging.

The telegram says:

"The roofs of the houses in the vicinity, the steeples and prominent points were crowded with people, anxious to see the execution. The crowd was so great that ingress to the jail was almost impossible."

Before and during the war, public executions in North Carolina were allowed, on the ground that the sight of the enforcement of the penalty prescribed by the law to the crime of murder would have a tendency to deter others from the commission of the offense, and would serve as a warning to the public. The law has been changed with us, for the alleged reason that familiarity with the harrowing scenes usually witnessed at the gallows tends to desensitize the moral faculties and to pander to a depraved and vitiated curiosity.

We have no statistics at hand to show whether public or private hangings have done more to suppress crime; but we have no sympathy with that strange and inexplicable anxiety among the masses to witness the agony and contortions of the unfortunate creature whom the law compels to pay his own life, as a penalty for taking the life of his fellow-man.

An advertisement in a Western paper says: "Look out for Mrs. Snyder, of Cleveland, who has killed two husbands and is roaming around the country for a third."

THE VACANT KANSAS SENATORSHIP.

Gov. Osborne, of Kansas, is said to be much puzzled as to the proper individual to appoint to fill the vacant Senatorship from his State.

The resignation of Caldwell makes it imperative on the Governor to appoint his successor.

Both Caldwell and Pomeroy are clamoring for the place. The former barely escaped expulsion from the Senate on account of bribery and corruption, and the latter, who paid seven thousand dollars to Col. York, of the Kansas Legislature for his vote and influence, is now being prosecuted in the Courts of his State on a similar charge.

It is the height of impudence that two such men as Pomeroy and Caldwell—men who stand convicted before the country as degraded, shameless and vile creatures, should again seek the high and honorable position of United States Senator—a position from which both of them have been hurled with dishonor for their crimes and rascality—the one, by being exposed and repudiated in the Legislature of his own State, the other by being forced to resign with expulsion from the Senate by his own political friends as well as his opponents, staring him in the face!

It would be an insult to the Senate, to the whole nation and to common decency, if Governor Osborne should appoint either Pomeroy or Caldwell to fill the Senatorial vacancy, and we have no idea he will be guilty of such an act of folly and turpitude.

THE GREAT BOAT RACE.

From our London dispatches, it will be seen that the great race between the Oxford and Cambridge boat crews came off yesterday afternoon.

The greatest excitement prevailed in London, and business in the city was almost entirely suspended.

Long before the hour appointed for the start, the banks of the Thames were lined with thousands of spectators, eagerly anxious to get eligible positions to view the contest.

The betting was at first two to one in favor of the Cambridge crew, but for some unexplained cause, the Oxforders afterwards became the favorites.

The victory was won by the Cambridge crew by three lengths.

An immense amount of money doubtless changed hands on the result.

KELLY'S STOCK.

It was Judge Kelly's, not Kellogg's, Credit Mobilier stock, now held by Oakes Ames, to which reference was made in yesterday's dispatches.

Ames says he intends to hold these bonds, which he alleges are Judge Kelly's property, until it is determined to whom they belong.

Judge Kelly is a prominent Republican member of Congress from Philadelphia, and is recognized as one of the Radical leaders in the House.

INJUNCTION.

At the last term of New Hanover Superior Court, some of the creditors of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad obtained a judgment on their claims, and the Road was advertised by Commissioners appointed by the Court, to be sold on the 10th of April, to satisfy the said judgment.

On Saturday last, Judge Logan granted at the instance of L. D. Childs and other complainants, an order restraining and enjoining the Commissioners from selling the Road on the day advertised.

QUEER BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.

Helena Moses complained to Judge Van Vorst, of the Superior Court, at New York, on Monday, that on the 8th ult., at a party which she gave in honor of the ocean, and which cost her $40, Abraham Cohen promised to marry her on the last day of the month. Helena at once began to prepare for the happy day, and in the preparation expended over $150; but though she sat through the whole of the day in bridal costume, and surrounded by her friends, Mr. Cohen failed to put in an appearance; wherefore she sued for breach of promise, valuing the damage done to her feelings at $10,000. On Helena's complaint Judge Van Vorst granted an order of arrest, on which Cohen was taken into custody by one of Judson Davis's deputies, and locked up in the county prison in default of $1,000 bail. The prisoner, who is only eighteen years old, swears he does not know the complainant at all, never saw her in all his life; moreover, she failed to recognize him in company with the deputy sheriff in the court-room.

An exciting horseback race recently took place in a Kentucky town between a sheriff and a lady, on whom he was endeavoring to serve a process. The lady, persisting that she would not receive the paper or hear it read, used her switch very vigorously on her horse, but the officer, being mounted on the better animal, caught up with her and continued in her company until he had read to her the contents of the official document which he held.

An eccentric grocer once asked to contribute towards building a new church, and signed the subscription thus: "John Smith (the only place in town where you can get eleven pounds of good sugar for $1.25).

Mrs. McGlynn, of Omaha, attempted to commit suicide by cutting her throat. She was so mad when the physician sewed it up that she stuck a knife in him, and it is expected he will die.

Among our national postoffices are the following: Ti-Ti-Tote, Why Not, Pipe Stem, Stony May, Sal Soda, Shickhiny, Overalls, Lookout, Last Chance, Marrow Bones, Sorrel Horse, Tally Ho, and Tired Creek.

Mrs. Commodore Vanderbilt is a sister of the wife of Bishop McCarty, of the Methodist Church, South.

100 AGENTS WANTED.

For each and every State and Territory in the Union, 100 agents, allowed to Agents, to sell the best of the N. C. Conference, four different kinds for various diseases. Send $10 by express or registered letter, and I will send by express a full variety of the different Medicines at the above rates. There is no tax or license upon the above medicines in North Carolina.

Medical circulars sent free to any address. Address, PROF. F. S. HICKS, P. O. Box 14, Raleigh, N. C., Office at the Court House.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 9, 1871.
I take great pleasure in recommending Prof. Hicks' remedies. I consider them very efficacious in all the diseases for which they are recommended. Those who are afflicted would do well to patronize the Professor, and be relieved from many aches and pains.

Very respectfully, DR. T. F. NIXON.
Thousands of certificates could be produced as to the purity and safety of my medicines, but it is not deemed necessary. mar 30-17

SUNDAY.....MARCH 30, 1873.

THE MARCH WINDS.

BY REV. PIERRE A. HANAFORD.

Blow fiercely winds of March amid your howling, I hear the sighing of the summer breeze,
And fancy brings to mind the blossom season When soft the zephyrs play amid the trees First month of Spring art thou, oh stormy March!
And thus we hail thee, tho' the stormy blast Flies through the valleys, sweeps among the hills, And bends upon the deep the swaying mast.

So do we hail, amid the sounds of battle,
The prospect of a coming day of peace.
When o'er the earth there shall no death-bells toll, And strife and error shall together cease.
And tho', like blustering winds promise the come,
And peace is conquered first on many a shore, Yet the glad anthem, of good-will succeeds,
And speaks to ploughshares change for evermore.

Advocate of Peace.

THE GAIT.—One may judge of the spirit and disposition of a man by his ordinary gait and manner of walking. He who habitually pursues abstract thoughts, looks down on the ground. He who is accustomed to sudden impulses, or is trying to seize upon some necessary recollection, looks up with a kind of jerk. He who is a steady, cautious, merely practical man, walks on deliberately, his eyes straight before him; and even in his most musing moods observes things at hand sufficiently to avoid a porter's knot or a butcher's tray. But the man with strong galleons—of pushing, lively temperament, who, though practical is yet speculative—the man who is emulous and active, and ever trying to rise in life, sanguine, alert, bold—walks with a spring, looks rather above the heads of his fellow-passengers, but with a quick, easy turn of his head, which is lightly set on his shoulders; his mouth is a little open, his eye bright, rather restless, but penetrative, his port has something of defiance.

SPECIMENS OF ENGLISH FUN.— Punch.—To persons about to marry "Don't—till costs are cheaper." (American Punch—says "Dry Goods," instead of "costs.")

A peddler became Editor—and always, in leisure, hummed as follows: There was Mrs. P. who was so very deaf, That she might have worn a percussion cap, And been knocked on the head without hearing it snap; Well, I sold her a horn, and the very next day, she heard from her husband at Botany Bay.

A Terre Haute girl seeing a fine cat bow his back, exclaimed, "Oh, would'n't he make a lovely bustle!"

What agonies must that poet have endured who, writing of his love, asserted in his manuscript that he "kissed her under the silent stars," and found the compositor had made him declare that he "kissed her under the cellar stairs."

A witty son of St. Patrick was in charge of a ferryboat. A lady passenger being frightened by the waves, asked him: "Are people ever lost by this boat?" He gave her the encouraging reply: "Not often, ma'am; we generally find them after, by dragging the river."
